

and we dive in.

This place can be wonderful and feel all-encompassing and it is important to have friends there

to keep us afloat.

HOW to LOVE

Dear Dorris,
Why do people
tend to forget
their friends
when they are in a relationship?
-Juliette ♡

where you can relax,
separate from emotional confusion.

but this purely emotional place can be suffocating

When we start a relationship, it can be nice to finally engage emotionally with someone

One day, we might be enticed by a babe.

A friendship is a safe place
